The University of Dar es Salaam (UDSM) Facts and Figures 2015/2016-2020/2021 report contains information of the preceding edition updated with the current information, which is presented in pie-charts, histograms and tables and narrative form. The main report focuses on the entire University, whose depiction is in a summary form. Detailed data for the particularised units appear as Appendices A, B, and C.

The information contained in this report is based on the data sourced from the units, particularly the Colleges, Schools, Institutes, Dean of Student's Office, the Directorate of Undergraduate Studies, the Directorate of Postgraduate Studies, the Directorate of Human Resource and Administration, the Directorate of Research and Publication, the University Library and the Office of the Chief Corporate Counsel and Secretary to the Council. Respective unit's official databases were the root sources of data.

This report is for public consumption and serves three purposes. Firstly, it serves as a source of information on various aspects of the UDSM to stakeholders such as University Administrators, Managers, Planners, Government Departments, Policy-makers, Teaching and Research Staff, Students and the public at large. 1 INTRODUCTION

1.1 The University of Dar es Salaam

1.1.1 Background

The University of Dar es Salaam (UDSM) started as a College under the guidance of the University of London in October 1961. The College's central obligation was to train high-level, requisite human resources for the development of the nascent nation and to be an instrument for the ideological and social orientation of the national elite at the same time. The College started with a single faculty, the Faculty of Law, in 1961. This faculty was followed by the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences in 1964 and the Faculty of Science in 1965.

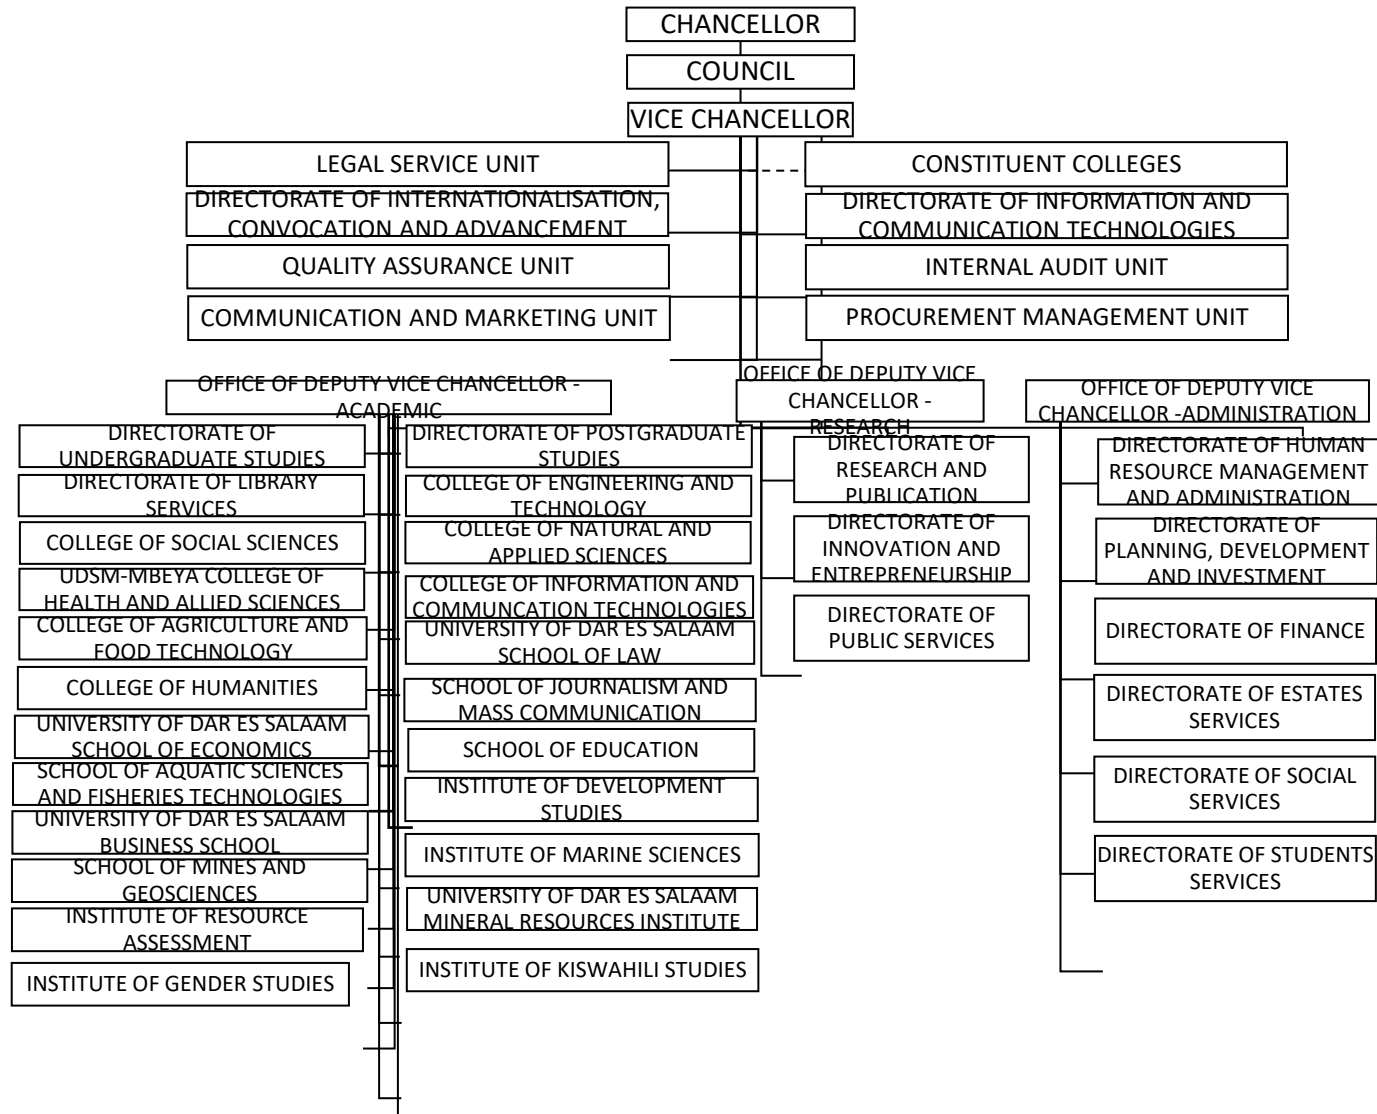

In order for the College to fulfil its historic obligation, it had to expand its physical and technical capacity. The expansion of the College took place in a number of major phases of change, namely the reconstitution of the institution as a constituent college of the University of East Africa in 1963, the expansion of the scope of its educational package from a single law programme that was established in 1961 to five degree programmes by 1969, the relocation of the College in 1964 from a single building at Lumumba Street, Dar es Salaam, where it was initially housed, to the present location (Mwalimu Julius Nyerere Mlimani Campus) and the Africanisation of the institution by gradually replacing the expatriate staff with Tanzanians or Africans.

In 1970 the University of East Africa was dissolved and the University of Dar es Salaam was established followed by major curricular transformations which led to the establishment of the Faculties of Engineering and Commerce in 1973 and 1979, respectively. These were preceded by two off-campus faculties, the Faculty of Medicine (in Dar es Salaam) and the Faculty of Agriculture (in Morogoro), which were set up in 1968 and 1969, respectively. The process of consolidation continued throughout the 1980s and the 1990s. By 1996, UDSM had grown into an all-round university, offering all the major traditional university disciplines, including the Humanities, Social Sciences, Physical and Biological Sciences, Medicine, Agriculture, Commerce and Management, Engineering, Lands and Architectural Studies later on in 2003 the Journalism and Mass Communication formed part of the programmes offered by the University.

The process of consolidating the institution was at some points interrupted by the Government's strategic decisions, through which three of its important academic units, namely the Faculty of Agriculture, Forestry and Veterinary Medicine (1984), the Muhimbili University College of Health Sciences (2006), and the University College of Lands and Architectural Studies (2006), became autonomous universities. However, the re-consolidation of the UDSM continued and two new constituent colleges of education were established in 2005, one in Dar es Salaam and another in Iringa. The process of re-consolidating the University continues under the current Corporate Strategic Plan, particularly by restoring its capacity to address development challenges relating to health, agricultural development and decent housing. The results of consolidating the institution include the establishment of the College of Agricultural Sciences and Fisheries Technology (CoAF) and the School of Health Sciences in 2015 at Mwalimu Julius Nyerere Mlimani Campus (MJNMC). The School was subsequently upgraded to the University of Dar es Salaam - Mbeya College of Health and Allied Sciences (UDSM-MCHAS). In 2020, the University established three new schools, which are the University of Dar es Salaam School of Economics (UDSE), School of Mines and Geosciences (SoMG), and School of Aquatic Sciences and Fisheries Technology (SoAF). Furthermore, in 2020, the Mineral Resource Institute (MRI) of the Ministry of Minerals became officially integrated into the UDSM.

2 UDSM OFFERED PROGRAMMES AND STUDENT PROFILES

2.1 UDSM Offered Programmes

The University offers a diversity of programmes at the certificate, diploma, bachelor, postgraduate diploma, master and PhD level to both local and international students. Figure 1 presents the distribution (in percentage) of the academic programmes on offer by the 2020/2021 academic year, which comprise certificate (4%), diploma (2%), bachelor's (26%), Postgraduate diploma (3%), master's (42%) and PhD (23%). This shows that 68% of the University's programmes are at the postgraduate level, with the undergraduate level accounting for 32%. This large proportion of postgraduate programmes is a manifestation of the University's vision of becoming a leader in postgraduate training as described in section 3.1.1 of the UDSM'S Vision 2061. In the UDSM Vision 2061, the University has committed itself to investing in postgraduate training by allocating resources to staff development, infrastructural development and academic programmes to produce more academics to serve as lecturers at UDSM and for other universities in Tanzania (See Table A1 in Appendix A for detailed data on the programmes).

2.2 Students' Profiles

2.2.1 First Year Registered Students

The number of first year registered students per programme for the period from 2015/2016 to 2020/2021 academic year is presented in Figure 2. The figure shows that the number of first year registered students to certificate programmes has dramatically decreased from 424 students in 2015/2016 to 95 students in the 2020/2021 academic year. This drop is attributable to the certificate programmes were not being accredited by the National Council for Technical Education (NACTE), hence only applicants seeking vertical progression in their career paths applied for these certificate programmes. The University has started seeking accreditation of all the certificate programmes by the Tanzania Commission for Universities (TCU) to attract more admissions.

The number of first year registered students to diploma programmes has increased from 59 students in 2015/2016 to 274 students in the 2020/2021 academic year. The number of first year registered students to bachelor's degree programmes has dramatically increased from 8,479 students in 2015/2016 to 12,332 students in the 2020/2021 academic year. Similarly, the number of first year registered students to master's programmes has increased from 1,617 students in 2015/2016 to 2,358 students in the 2019/2020 thereafter decreased to 1,299 in 2020/21 academic year while the number of first year registered students in postgraduate diploma and PhD students has decreased to 145 in 2020/21 academic year as indicated in Figure 2. The overall number of first year registered students to the University of Dar es Salaam programmes in the past six years has increased by 24 percent, from 11,448 to 14,232 students in the academic year of 2015/2016 to 2020/2021 as indicated in Figure 3. The increase in the number first year registered students is attributable to expanding capacity as evident by the construction of new lecture theatres, classrooms, students' hostels and the introduction of new programmes.

The number of female first year registered students from 2015/2016 to 2020/2021 academic years has increased significantly from 3,653 students in 2015/2016 to 6,924 students in 2020/2021 as indicated in Figure 3. Percent-wise, in the 2015/2016 academic year 32 percent of the first year registered students were females whereas in the 2020/2021 academic year 49 percent of the first year registered students were females. The increase in the percentage of first year registered female students is due to strategic commitment of the University management to promote gender equality and address the gender gap at the UDSM. In a bid to promote gender equality and address gender gap, the University has upgraded the Gender Centre into the Institute of Gender Studies, and established a merit-based scholarship for undergraduates and postgraduate female students. In addition, the University conducts special sensitisation campaigns in secondary schools for students to apply to the University of Dar es Salaam. Figure

2.2.2 Students Enrolment

Table A3 and Table A4 in Appendix A provide an overall summary of UDSM students' enrolment at undergraduate and postgraduate levels. Figure 4 provides students' enrolment by gender while percentage distribution is presented in Figure 5. From figure 4 it shows that, the enrolment has increased from 27,403 students in 2015/2016 to 39,034 students in the 2020/2021 academic year, which is an increase of 42 percent. The increase in the number of enrolled students from 2015/2016 to 2020/2021 academic year was due to the factors explained in the second paragraph of Section 2.2.1 of this report.

Similarly, the proportion of female students to the students' annual enrolment has increased from 34 percent in 2015/2016 to 47 percent in the 2020/2021 academic year as indicated in Figure 5. This increase was occasioned by factors explained in the third paragraph of Section 2.2.1 of this report. Along with the current institutional initiatives aimed to consolidate the UG and expansion of PG programmes, the University's strategy is to raise the proportion of female students to at least 50 percent to attain gender parity.

The number of enrolled UG students has increased by 50 percent from 22,963 students in 2015/2016 to 34,406 students in the 2020/2021 academic year. However, the number of enrolled PG students marginally increased by 4 percent from 4,440 students in 2015/2016 to 4,628 students in the 2020/2021 academic as indicated in Figure 6. This suggests that the University should continue implementing its strategic plan of becoming a leader in postgraduate education by allocating more resources to increasing enrolment of PG students.

2.2.3 Students' Graduation

Figure 7 provides a summary of the University students' graduation for the past six years. The trend indicates that UG students' graduation has increased from 6,359 graduates in 2015/2016 to 9,316 in the 2020/2021 academic year. The increase in enrolment notwithstanding, the number of PG students' graduation decreased from 1,020 graduates in 2015/2016 to 782 graduates in the 2020/2021 academic year. This suggests that there is a need for the University to ensure that PG students complete their studies on time. Any delays in the completion of studies could impair the utilisation of resources available such as staff and laboratories.

Generally, the overall number of graduating students has increased from 7,379 in 2015/2016 to 10,098 graduates in the 2020/2021 academic year as indicated in Figure 8. The number of female graduates increased from 2,593 graduates in 2015/2016 to 4,427 graduates in the 2020/2021 academic year. The increase in the number of female students graduating is attributable to continuing increase in female students' enrolment as explained in section 2.2.1. Supporting details of the students' graduation from all programmes are presented in Tables A5 - A21 under Appendix A.

3 TEACHING AND LEARNING

3.1 Academic Staff Profiles

Continued existence of the University depends on a steady supply of quality human resources with the right mix of qualifications, gender, age, rank and experience, among other factors. From 2015/2016 to 2020/2021 academic year, the number of staff of the University of Dar es Salaam and its constituent colleges has increased from 1,590 in 2015/2016 to 1,941 staff in the 2020/2021 academic year. The increase in the number of staff affirms the University’s commitment to the realisation of quality and inspired staff as described by one of the three pillars of the UDSM’s Vision 2061. Furthermore, this increase seeks to carter for the rising number of enrolled students during the same period.

3.1.1 UDSM Academic Staff by Gender

Figure 9 provides an overview of the UDSM’s faculty (permanent, contract and part-time) by gender from 2015/2016 to the 2020/2021 academic year. The figure shows that the number of female faculty members has increased from 423 in 2015/2016 to 537 in the 2020/2021 academic year.

3.1.2 UDSM Academic Staff by Age

Figure 13 to Figure 15 present the age profile of academic staff. For the 2020/2021 academic year, academic staff aged above 60 years were 71 whereas 59 staff were aged of 56 - 60. This age profile suggests that in the next few years these 59 staff would also be aged above 60 years. The higher number of staff aged above 60 years may be due to the statutory extension of the retirement age from 60 to 65 years for senior lecturers and those in the professorial ranks. However, there is a need for the University to focus on implementing the UDSM's succession plan to avoid skewing the number of staff towards higher age.

For the 2020/2021 academic year, the UDSM statistics show that 52 percent of the overall academic staff were aged between 26 and 40 years whereas the remaining 48 percent were aged above 40 years. This implies that, the University has a favourable balance between junior staff with little experience and senior staff who can share experiences and pass on skills to groom the upcoming staff as part of the mentoring process.

For the 2020/2021 academic year, the analysis shows that 20 percent of the academic staff aged under 41 years are PhD holders, 64 percent of academic staff aged between 41 and 50 years have PhDs and 96 percent of academic staff aged above 50 years have PhDs as indicated in Table 1. The University through its Vision 2061 strives to be a leading centre of intellectual wealth spearheading the quest for sustainable and inclusive development. Thus, deliberate efforts should be made to train and recruit more academic staff at the master's and PhD levels to ensure the smooth running of academic programmes. If this is not addressed in the short-term, the reputation of the University will be compromised to a great deal. Details of academic staff by age and gender are provided in tables B3 to B20 presented in Appendix B.

3.1.3 UDSM Academic Staff by Rank

Figure 16 shows the number of UDSM's academic staff (total permanent, on contract and part-time) by rank for the 2015/2016 to 2020/2021 period. The figure shows that the number of assistant lecturers was the highest among the ranks in every year during the period reported. In fact, the number of tutorial assistants has decreased from 304 in 2015/2016 to 176 in the 2020/2021 academic year, as indicated in Figure 16. The number of lecturers and assistant lecturers has increased from 300 and 665 in 2015/2016 to 603 and 832 in the 2020/2021 academic year, respectively. Both assistant lecturers' and lecturers' promotions are mainly based on successful completion of the master's and PhD studies. Implicitly, the University has been allocating sufficient resources to support the faculty development and a good number of the academic staff complete their studies successfully. Conversely, the number of senior lecturers, associate professors and professors has decreased from 179, 92 and 50 in 2015/2016 to 211, 90 and 29 in 2020/2021 academic year, respectively, as Figure 16 illustrates. Senior lecturer-ship, associate professorship and professorship become tenable mainly upon fulfilment of the set publication points alongside the teaching component. The decrease in number of staff in the positions of senior lecturer and professorial ranks may be attributed to lack of motivation among academic staff to publish in reputable journals. It is anticipated that, with the provision of competitive research grants (which encourage academic staff to conduct more research), more staff would find cause to publish and raise both their scholarly standing and prospect for promotion to senior ranks. In this regard, the University is making concerted efforts to ensure that every academic staff publishes at least one journal paper in every year in a reputable publication.

By the 2020/2021 academic year, the University had 9 percent tutorial assistants, 43 percent assistant lecturers, 31 percent lecturers, 11 percent senior lecturers, 5 percent associate professors and one percent professors, as Figure 17 illustrates:

3.1.4 Academic Staff Recruitment

The recruitment plan enables the University to replace, fill new vacancies and ensure continued supply of qualified staff. Employment permits issued from time to time by the Government enable the University to recruit new staff. The timing and conditions of employment spelt out in the permits dictate the realisation of the UDSM's Succession Plan. In the last six years, 421 academic staff were recruited, with a large portion of them being tutorial assistants (71%) and assistant lecturers (23%). The introduction of junior staff into the University academic service addresses adverse effects on age, rank and qualifications that are direct outcomes of freezing employment in public sector, including universities in the early 1990s. Policy and associated programmes for training and developing staff need to be conceived and implemented. Table B21 in Appendix B provides an overall (UDSM level) status of the recruitment of academic staff by year, rank and gender. Tables B22, B23 and B24 in Appendix B presents data on the recruitment status at MJKN Mlimani Campus, DUCE and MUCE respectively.

3.1.5 Academic Staff by Employment Status

Figure 18 indicates UDSM's employment by status with permanent employment dominating the status. Next to permanent are the contract and part-time status among faculty.

Further findings show that for the past six years ending 2020/21 academic year, the proportion of academic staff employed on permanent terms ranged from 81 percent to 86 percent of total academic staff. This implies that, the UDSM has a spine to perform core functions. During the same period, the proportion of staff on contract terms ranged between 2 percent and 10 percent while part-time staff between 4 percent and 16 percent. Employment on contract and permanent terms is granted to spread evenly the workload in a particular area, and retain experience and skills deemed necessary for not only fulfilling key organisational functions but also for nurturing junior academics to attain projected outcomes. As such, a steady supply of permanent quality and appropriate human resource is important for institutional memory and continued provision of quality training services, conducting research, and offering quality public service to the Government, global agencies such as the UN, the World Bank, the European Union and the society at large. Detailed data on academic staff by employment status and gender are provided in Tables B25 - B31 in Appendix B.

3.1.6 Academic Staff by Citizenship

About 99 percent of the academic staff at UDSM are Tanzanians whereas the remaining one percent represents staff of different nationalities as Figure 19 illustrates. Figure 20 and Figure 21, on the other hand, expose the need to exert deliberate efforts aimed to ensure favourable conditions and attractive policies are in place to enhance the international standing of the UDSM. Tables B32 - B50 in Appendix B present further details on UDSM academic staff by citizenship:

3.2 Technical Staff

Technical staff assists academic staff in the delivery of teaching and practical. Technical staff are responsible for the preparation and supervision of workshops, laboratories and studio sessions. Technical staff include cadres such as laboratory technicians, laboratory scientists, workshop instructors, and studio technicians. This category of staff is reported in terms of gender, age and academic qualification.

The age proportion of technical staff for year 2020/21 is presented in in figure 22 among them, 41 percent are aged below 41 years and the remaining 59 percent are aged above 40 years. Most of the technical staff have been in service for a long time, accumulating experience that is crucial in meeting individual roles and mentoring incoming junior staff. Furthermore, over 44 percent of technical staff possessed a diploma or lower qualifications. With the guidance of a succession plan, the University has laid out a strategy for increasing capacity through training of junior staff and timely replacement of vacancies that will be left by staff that are expected to leave services in next few years. Figure 23, Figure 24 and Figure 25 provide an overview of the technical staff by their qualifications at the University of Dar es Salaam. Meanwhile, detailed information on the same aspect is obtainable in tables B51 - B69 a presented in Appendix B.

3.3 Administrative Staff

Administrative staff provide support service to enable the University to fulfil its key functions of teaching, research and public services. The administrative staff category include cadre such as accountants, administrators, planning officers, nurses, medical doctors, journalists, marketing officers, security officers, janitors, secretaries, office attendants and drivers. This category of staff is reported in terms of gender, age and academic qualifications.

3.3.1 Administrative Staff by Age and Academic Qualification

The age structure of administrative staff is evenly spread with about 51 percent in the age range below 41 years and the remaining 49 percent aged above 40 years. About 46 percent of the administrative had an undergraduate (first) degree, masters or PhD whereas 54 percent had a diploma or even lower qualifications. The employer stands to gain more from this cadre through needs-based training and development. Figure 27, Figure 28 and Figure 29 provide an overview picture of administrative staff with their academic qualifications. Detailed information on administrative staff is obtainable in tables B70 - Table B88 as further elaborated by results presented in Appendix B.

Research is one of the three core functions of the University. This section presents information on the number of research projects completed or in progress, UDSM's active journals, publications by UDSM's staff, professorial chairs and research grants offered in various disciplines.

3.4.1 Research Projects Completed or in Progress

The number of research projects registered at the UDSM has increased from 145 projects in 2015/2016 academic year to 294 projects in the 2020/2021 academic year, as indicated in Figure 30. This remarkable increase in the number of registered research projects is due to the introduction of competitive research grants for the UDSM's staff since the 2017/2018 academic year whereby the amount of internally generated funds dedicated to research has increased from TZS 600,000,000 in 2017/2018 academic year to TZS 2,000,000,000 in the 2020/2021 academic year. Further details of research projects for Colleges, Schools and Institutes are provided Table B89 in Appendix B.

Figure 30: UDSM's completed and in-progress research projects

3.4.2 UDSM's Active Institutional Journals

Figure 31 presents the active journals that increased from 21 in 2015/2016 to 23 in the 2020/2021. Since the 2017/2018 academic year, the University introduced rigorous quality assurance research whereby UDSM’s journals are annually evaluated against predetermined standards for local and international recognition. Journals, which do not pass the set criteria, lose their status as active institutional journals of the UDSM. This sanction against faltering journals explains the increase in number of active journals to 46 in 2016/2017 and the decrease thereafter. Table B90 in Appendix B provides further information on the active journals by College, School and Institute.

3.4.3 Journal Articles Published by UDSM Staff

In 2015/2016, the University published 333 papers in various journals whereas in the 2020/2021 academic year the University published 626 papers in various journals as indicated in Figure 32. The number of journal papers published by the UDSM’s researchers from 2015/2016 to the 2020/2021 academic year is a cumulative sum of papers published in every year, which is 2,719 journal papers. Further details are provided in Table B91 in Appendix B with comparative statistics for College, School and Institute levels.

3.4.4 Conference Papers Published by UDSM Staff

The number of conference papers published by UDSM staff per annum increased from 151 papers in 2015/2016 academic year to 339 papers in 2018/2019 academic year as indicated in Figure 33. The increase in the number of conference papers is attributable to the commitment of the UDSM to supporting its faculty through competitive research grants for conducting research and providing direct financial support to staff who wish to disseminate their research findings. However, the Covid-19 pandemic affected the researchers' participation in conferences as manifested by the decrease in the number of conference papers from 339 papers in 2018/2019 to 105 conference papers in the 2020/2021 academic year as indicated in Figure 33. Table B92 in Appendix B. provides more details on conference papers by College, School and Institute.

3.4.5 Summary of Total Number of Papers Published by UDSM’s Staff

The summary of the number of conference and journal papers published per annum by UDSM staff increased from 484 papers in 2015/2016 to 731 papers in the 2020/2021 academic year as indicated in Figure 34.

3.4.6 Books Published by UDSM Staff

The number of books published per annum by UDSM staff has increased from 6 books in 2015/2016 to 17 books in the 2020/2021 academic year as indicated in Figure 35. A detailed breakdown of the published books for various Colleges, Schools and Institutes is presented in Table B93 in Appendix B.

3.4.7 Book Chapters Published by UDSM's Staff

The number of book chapters published per annum by UDSM staff has increased from 25 book chapters in 2014/2015 to 46 book chapters in the 2019/2020 academic year as indicated in Figure 36. Detailed breakdown of the published book chapters for various Colleges, Schools and Institutes is presented in Table B94 in Appendix B.

3.4.8 Professorial Chairs

The position of Professorial Chair is an academic position created in recognition of an eminent scholar's significant contribution to scholarship and research and/or development of the University. It is awarded to a person at the level of professor who has distinguished them in the discipline they are representing. In the 2019/20 academic year, the University of Dar es Salaam had the following professorial chairs:

1. Mwalimu Nyerere Professorial Chair in Pan Africanism;
2. Mwalimu Nyerere Professorial Chair in Kiswahili;
3. Mwalimu Nyerere Professorial Chair in Environment and Climate Change;
4. Mwalimu Nyerere Professorial Chair in Development; and
5. Mwalimu Nyerere Professorial Chair in Biotechnology.

3.5 Library Services

Following an increase in student enrolment at both the undergraduate and postgraduate levels, library services at the MJNMC have been strengthened. In 2019, the University opened the new library at MJNMC. Thus, now there are two libraries: The old and the new libraries. The new library has a sitting capacity of 2,100 users at a time, more than 160 computers for searching for e-resources, special computers for supporting users with special needs, several postgraduate and researchers study chambers. The new library is supported by a solar energy system and water reserve in case of sudden power and water outages, respectively. Moreover, more information user-friendly technologies have been introduced in the old library to enable excellent library services access such as resources and facilities (both in print and electronic formats) as well as favourable space for reading, shelving, and ICT facilities. In addition, the University has enhanced its subscription to full-text electronic journals and bibliographic databases, creation of Online Public Access Catalogue (OPAC) for the entire campus resources, and reorganisation of the library along subject specialisation.

3.6 ICT Services

The rapid development in the deployment and use of Information Communication Technology (ICT) worldwide have inclusively affected both the pedagogy and administrative approaches of the academia. In this regard, the UDSM is no exception. Several initiatives are being undertaken by the UDSM to ensure that in its Vision 2061, the University keeps pace with the agility in the integration and use of ICT in its triad of teaching, learning, research and public service provision. Some of these initiatives are as follows:

- i) Creation and maintenance of ICT centres – namely the Centre for Virtual Learning (CVL) and the University Computing Centre (UCC); and
- ii) Development and maintenance of various information systems such as Academic Registration Information System (ARIS), Vote Book, Research repositories and Open Performance Review and Appraisal System (OPRAS).

In a much broader sense, the UDSM's strategy is to embrace ICT as an enabler for and driver of the University's core business. To enhance its competitiveness, the UDSM will require radical improvements to ensure the availability of adequate, modern and well-maintained teaching and learning infrastructure, and facilities as well as financial resources. From the ICT usage perspective, the following sections present some specific initiatives the UDSM taken towards fostering ICT application in teaching and learning (online education), research, and administrative operations during the past six years.

3.6.1 ICT in Teaching and learning

The strategic orientation of the UDSM regarding online education is to optimise its usage depending on available circumstances. In terms of significant initiatives towards online and blended education, the UDSM has made some crucial progress with respect to development of an in-house capacity for and experience with online education intervention. In this regard, the UDSM has established and adequately equipped a full-fledged Centre for Virtual Learning (CVL) www.cvl.udsm.ac.tz

The CVL is a UDSM unit operating within the College of Information and Communication Technologies (CoICT), responsible for the provision of requisite technical support to all University's academic units in the design and delivery of ICT-mediated distance learning programmes. The academics get support in educational technology particularly in instructional multimedia production and training in applying Learning Management Systems (LMS).

The UDSM currently uses the open-source Moodle as a learning management system. Using the in-house capacity provided by the CVL, the UDSM is now offering three postgraduate programmes fully online: one at the master's level and two at the diploma level. These are: Master of Engineering Management (MEM), Postgraduate Diploma in Engineering management (PGDEM) and Postgraduate Diploma in Education (PGDE). In addition to these internally-managed programmes, the centre also hosts programmes from other universities. In the recent past, the Government of the United Republic of Tanzania and the Government of India signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) to implement the Pan-African e-network Project. Under this project, Indian Universities offer different degree and non-degree programmes to some selected African countries using e-learning technology and video conferencing facilities. The UDSM, through its CVL facility was selected by the Government of Tanzania as the National Tele-Education Centre under this Project. Thus, the UDSM in collaboration with Amity University in India, is co-ordinating and facilitating the following academic programs: Post-Graduate Diploma in Information Technology (PGD-IT), Post Graduate Diploma in French Language (PGDFL), MBA in International Business (MBA-IB), Master of Finance & Control (MFC), Master of Information Technology (M.Sc.-IT), B.Sc. Information Technology (B.Sc.-IT), Bachelor of Finance & Investment Analysis, and Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA).

In addition to distance education support, the CVL strives to strengthen the traditional face-to-face teaching and learning experience at the UDSM by helping academic units to digitise their course contents (lecture materials, assignments, references, etc.) and making them available through the learning management system in addition to developing new interactive course contents.

Apart from serving the University, as has been presented here, the excess capacity of the CVL facility provides consultancy services to the public in the use of technology in Education and Multimedia Production including training on related issues. A case in point here is the ongoing project, namely: Using ICT to Re-tool and Up-skill In-service Science Teachers. This project is sponsored by the World Bank and aims to upgrade the content knowledge of secondary school teachers in Tanzania on difficult subject topics in Science and Mathematics using multimedia-enhanced content. The pilot project focuses on Science teachers' content knowledge mastery for difficult topics in Mathematics, Physics, Biology, and Chemistry at the O-Level of secondary education- www.retooling.udsm.ac.tz.

The UDSM has another centre apart from CVL, which also provides some online professional development training and expertise through partnership. The University Computing Centre (UCC) www.ucc.co.tz is an authorised Person VUE Testing Centre dedicated to enabling professionals and academics to pursue information technology and project management courses and take certification tests. Some of the on-line examinations conducted at the UCC's Person VUE Testing Centre are Microsoft Certification Examinations, i.e. MCSA, MCSE, MCDA; Cisco Certification Examinations, i.e. CCNA, CCNP; Oracle Certification Examinations, i.e. OCA; and Information Technology Infrastructure Library v3 ITIL Examinations.

3.6.2 Information Systems Supporting Teaching and Learning – ARIS

The ARIS holds all the information relating to students and their studies at the University of Dar es Salaam. Specifically, ARIS allows Staff and Students of the UDSM to manage their management tasks online. Here is an example of what ARIS can do:

For Students:

- Register for Courses online
- View Course Progress and Results

For Teaching Staff:

- View list of Students per Course
- Publish Course Results
- Track Students' Progress

Other:

- Accommodation Management
- Payment Management
- Degree Configuration
- Postgraduate Online Application service
- Time table system and other web-based systems like iLab and library information system (AdLib)

3.6.3 Information Systems Supporting Research

Some of the systems are the Research Repository of the University of Dar es Salaam, which is an online/digital collection of research and publications from the UDSM. It serves the self-archive function for published work of UDSM's staff in various publication media worldwide. The Research Repository collects, preserves and avails publications and conference papers, journals, books and other outputs created by the UDSM's researchers. Researchers can upload their CVs while simultaneously updating their profiles. Participation in the UDSM's Research Repository helps to ensure that publications are more visible and highly cited. Moreover, the research information management system continues being developed for enhanced performance.

Other information systems which support research are as follows:

- UDSM Journal System, a hosting media for UDSM approved journals owned by various UDSM units;
- Research Projects Registration System, which the UDSM's staff use to register their research projects; and
- Consultancy Registration System, which the UDSM's staff use to register their consultancy projects.

Apart from these information systems, the UDSM through the University of Dar es Salaam Library subscribes to various well-known international Journals and/or e-resources. Some of these are the following:

- Ebscohost

- Wiley Online Library
- Nature - Science and Education
- Emerald Insight
- Tylor & Francis Online
- Springer Link

For open access the following e-resources are available:

- Research4Life
- JSTOR
- IMF Library

For plagiarism checking in publications, UDSM has subscribed to Turnitin Anti-plagiarism software www.turnitin.com

3.6.4 Information Systems Supporting Management and Administration

Apart from the services related to the core functions of the University, that is, teaching, research, and public service, which have received considerable ICT support, the supporting functions and related services at the UDSM, which have received a considerable degree of automation, include Accounting and Financial Management, Payroll, Human Resource, Stock Control and equipment/asset management which are all automated and integrated in a single database—the VOTE BOOK system.

VOTE BOOK is an in-house developed piece of software, which has been in use for supporting services since 2009, when the UDSM deregistered from and abandoned the use of SCALA, a proprietary FIS.

The University also uses an online Open Performance Review and Appraisal System (OPRAS), for staff performance assessments and appraisal in line with the country's Civil Service Establishment.

3.6.5 ICT Infrastructure Capacity

Currently, the UDSM has two Internet links, one through the SEACOM Company with a capacity of STM1 i.e., 155Mbps; and another through the TERNET Consortium with a capacity of 150Mbps. Hence the total capacity of the internet link is 305Mbps.

3.7 Consultancy and Services

Conducting consultancy is one of the major functions of the University of Dar es Salaam. In this regard, the University conducts consultancy services in order to ensure that its expertise benefits the community and serves as a means for the University’s income generation. Through the Directorate of Public Services, the University ensures that consultancy services are offered to the community with the highest level of professionalism, ethical considerations and integrity. In this regard, the University has policy and regulations in place to guide the conduct of consultancy services. Moreover, every consultancy work is registered in the Consultancy Management System for easy monitoring.

3.7.1 Consultancy Projects and Value

The number of consultancy projects registered has increased from 120 in 2015/2016 to 145 projects in the 2019/2020 and then drop to 99 in 2020/2021 academic year, as Figure 37 illustrates. Similarly, the value of consultancy projects has increased from TZS 6.92 billion in 2015/2016 to TZS 15.11 billion in the 2019/2020 and drops to 4.19 billion in 2020/2021 academic year as Figure 38 further indicates. The increase in the volume and value of the UDSM’s consultancy projects may be attributable to increased internal controls of consultancy projects such as the introduction of the online Consultancy Management System and increased community trust in the UDSM. The decrease in the value and number of consultancy projects in 2020/21 may be attributed to the Covid-19 endemic. Detailed data on the consultancy value is presented in Table B89 in Appendix B.

4 FINANCIAL RESOURCES AND STUDENTS ACCOMMODATION

4.1 Budget Performance

One of the pillars that would enable the University to realise its Vision 2061 is the availability and sustainability of resources. Annual budgets that are endorsed by the University Council (for UDSM MJMN Campus), the respective College Boards (for DUCE and MUCE) and submitted to the Government for final approval cover costs for personnel emoluments, capital development, and other operating costs. In the recent years, the Government has been approving only around 90 percent of the Council/College Board budgets request, and the average actual receipts have been up to 75 percent of the Government approved budget (see Figure 39). In the 2018/2019 fiscal year, the Government paid all the long overdue salary and other benefits arrears, thus making an overshoot of the Government-approved against Council requested budget to 103 percent as Figure 39 illustrates. The Government has also been supporting full Personnel Emolument budget and partial capital development budget for the construction of the halls of residence, office buildings, lecture theatres, and rehabilitation of various infrastructures whenever funds are available. To appreciate the Government's support, the University has been allocating 60 percent of its internal revenue for operational activities and the remaining 40 percent to supporting the rehabilitation, expansion of the UDSM's infrastructure and other development expenditures. In fact, the University continues to implement cost-cutting measures and diversifying income-generating activities as stated in Section 4.3 of the UDSM's Vision 2061. Figure 40, Figure 41 and Figure 42 depict the financing trend of the UDSM MJNM Campus' budget, those of the two Constituent Colleges' budgets, and the actual receipts. Details of the UDSM's financial performances appear in tables C1 - C8 in Appendix C.

4.2 Internally-generated Income

Internally-generated income for the MJNM Campus has increased by 55 percent from TZS 32.69 billion in 2017/2018 to TZS 50.64 billion in the 2020/2021 academic year as indicated in Figure 43. The increase in internally-generated income is attributable to the rise in the number of admitted students and strengthening of revenue collection measures.

Internally-generated revenue for MUCE has increased by 16 percent from TZS 5.89 billion in 2017/2018 to TZS 6.85 billion in the 2019/2020 academic year as Figure 45 illustrates. The increase in the amount of internally-generated funds is attributable to the same reasons outlined above.

4.3 Students' Accommodation Facilities

University students have a free choice to stay in University hostels or rent accommodation in private hostels, residential houses or apartments located in the neighbourhood. With 39,034 students' enrolment for the 2020/2021 academic year, the University accommodation capacity available is to cater for only 35 percent of the population. The University recognises that the type of accommodation at the disposal of its students affects the overall learning process and, eventually, the quality of graduates. The prevailing accommodation status places unavoidable need to rehabilitate the halls of residences currently available in addition to developing more facilities in the spirit of further enhancing the quality of learning. Table C9 in Appendix C provides the 2020/2021 academic year enrolment figures, installed capacity for students' accommodation and actual occupancy. Details of accommodation at the MJKNM Campus and the two constituent colleges of DUCE and MUCE are presented in tables C10 to C12 in Appendix C.

5 CONCLUSION

The Facts and Figures Report contains information, which will serve a multi-pronged purpose for the University as well as its diverse stakeholders and publics. The report presents a composite picture of the University of Dar es Salaam from 2015/2016 to the 2020/2021 academic year regarding programmes on offer and students' profiles, staff profiles, research and publications, library services, ICT services, consultancy services, financial resources and students' accommodation. Such an array of data can help the University in decision-making in respect of any arising challenges and prioritisation of tackling these challenges based on available resources, innovation and the University's time-tested expertise. The report further provides a synopsis of the extent to which the University has been implementing its core functions with respect to the UDSM's Vision 2061 and its multi-faceted strategic plans congruent with its status as a comprehensive University in Tanzania, Africa and the world.
